What's New With AMC Cancer Fund

“We celebrate survival while we work toward a world without cancer”

...AMC Vision

Al Marcus reported that UCCC has been heavily focused for the past 6 months on submitting a renewal grant to NCI, which is due the end of January. Grant submission is followed by site visits from scientists selected by the NCI. If funded, UCCC could receive around $25 million in direct costs for 5 years. Al is very confident that the AMC Cancer Prevention & Control will receive some of those dollars.

CICL is one of AMC's signature programs, and funded in large part by NVO. Arnold Levinson has a smoking cessation project he's working on which involves telephone counseling. Plans are now underway to explore using the CICL to provide these counseling outcalls once individuals are enrolled in the program. CICL has never before provided this type of smoking cessation service. This new service could eventually be promoted nationwide.

Arnold Levinson received another grant from the National Cancer Institute to help underserved/low income smokers quit smoking. Smoking is the number one cause of preventable cancer death in the U.S.

Al discussed the recently completed study done on diet, nutrition, and physical activity - - the Healthy Living program run by Gay Woods. Through the initiative and commitment of the AMC Cancer Fund, this grant was renewed by the Colorado Health Foundation for $53,000. This grant will allow the pilot study to continue in three churches with African-American populations in Denver and once completed would be able to expand. The results from the first study are being written up and will be submitted for publication. Al will send the article to Frieda at AMC and she will send it out to the group.

The Kaiser Permanente of Colorado (KPC) collaboration involves a new web-based program developed internally at NCI. Two prototypes currently exist - one for prostate cancer, the other for colorectal cancer. These two programs are designed to provide survival estimates or probabilities based on information entered into the program (e.g., age, gender, stage at diagnosis, competing co-morbidities, etc).

Before NCI releases these programs nationwide, they issued a sole source contract to KPC to conduct some early user and usability testing. KPC will be conducting this pilot study with clinicians and other allied health professionals, where they will use the program and then make suggestions for improvements. Our collaboration with KPC will allow UCCC clinicians to help in this pretest of what will be a very important and innovative tool to predict cancer survival. Al has worked very closely with KPC in coordinating these pilot tests with clinicians and other allied health professions at UCCC. NCI plans to develop similar web-based programs for other cancer sites as well.

UCCC is the only NCI-designated cancer center that is participating in this very important pilot test.

What is the CICL?

Established in 1981 by AMC Cancer Research Center, the CICL is a national toll-free telephone information line designed to help people with cancer and their families. The CICL provides: Up-to-date medical information - Resource referrals - Emotional support - Short-term counseling by professionals experienced in working with cancer patients and family members

Our service is unique. Cancer information specialists and professional counselors are on staff and available to talk with you in-depth about your concerns. All calls are strictly confidential.

FINANCIAL UPDATE

Frieda reported a total giving to date of $28,997.08.

AMC UPDATE

FUNDRAISING

Frieda discussed the iBean Coffee Fundraising Program, a unique, smart and EASY way to fundraise. The program is done through on-line sales of gourmet coffees, and all you have to do is promote to friends and family. Each bag sold earns $3.00 while promoting NVO and AMC. The program does not require any upfront costs and the iBean professional promotional materials will equip us with all of the necessary tools to successfully sell the coffee. AMC Cancer Fund in Denver is already a "partner." The website is www.ibeancoffee.com.

AMC WEBSITE

Updates to the AMC website are being done by staff at AMC to include a listing of active and associate NVO chapters. www.amc.org
